

GOING TOO FAR.

Recently, in San Francisco, some bakers had a row with their employers, and struck. The strike has spread until some 2,500 people are engaged in it. The strike has not been confined to the bakers, but the restaurant waiters have been "ordered out."

The waiters who have obeyed the "ordering out" say that they have no grievance with their employers, and that they are paid good wages. The result is that for several weeks these waiters must go without wages, and their wives and families suffer in order that five bakers may gain a point.

The strike is costing the Unions about $3,000 a day. If it lasts a month it will reach $100,000. Think what a nice restaurant the Waiters' Union could establish with that $100,000, and take all the profits themselves! After the strike is over they will have nothing whatever to show except a letter of thanks from the Bakers' Union—if they win.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

—Through traffic on the Atlantic and Pacific Road has again been resumed.

—Seventy inmates of the Protestant Orphan Asylum at Sacramento are down with the measles.

—The thieves and burglars of San Diego are making matters very lively for the citizens and the police.

—Sales of new wines have been made at St. Helena in advance of 1887 prices, which is encouraging to the wine-makers.

—George Chace, aged 14 years, son of ex-Mayor Chace of Santa Cruz, Monday accidentally killed himself while out gunning.

—A Mexican named Estrada has been arrested on the American side of Nogales for murdering a liveryman named Brown of Florence, A. T.

—The search of the cutter Corwin, off Astoria, for the missing British bark Kingfauns, has been unavailing, and it is feared she is lost with all on board.

—Last Friday George Wright was shot by I. R. Lane, who was last year divorced from his wife on Wright's account, and died Monday at Wasco, Or.

—Charles Robinson, of Princetown, Colusa county, was drowned in Davis' Lake, near Butte City, Sunday. He was skating when the ice broke and he fell through.

—The suit of E. T. M. Simmons vs. the Pacific Improvement Company opens on January 23d at Salinas. The suit is for libel in charging Simmons with the burning of the Hotel Del Monte.

—The face of Manuel Soto was cut from the left temple to the corner of his mouth, and the muscles of jaw the severed, by Chimalo Castro, another Mexican, through jealousy, at San Jose Monday.

—A man has been taken into custody at Martinez whose hallucination is that he was driven out of San Francisco by the blowing of whistles all over the city by people who wished to boycott him.

—Willows captured The Northern California Base-ball League pennant, at the game played at Colusa last Sunday and a brass band, the fire company in uniform and a large procession of citizens met the club on its return to Willows.

—Thousands of skaters covered the Willamette river all day Monday, and when the Oregon was coming in at Portland she was met by a hundred or more people two miles down the river. They followed her, skating by her side and gazing the passengers. The Oregon fought her way through the ice, and was five hours in making the last six miles.

—The Yale Current announces that the coming newspaper will not print advertisements. A newspaper in this city tried to run without advertisements, but it changed into a going, not a coming newspaper.
